Why are foreign peoples still victims?

- Migration has increased racism, xenophobia and affine shapes of intolerance: these are three main causes of rejecting foreigners across the border.

- Unfortunately, despite the new and modern era we are experiencing, fugitives are still highly thought as Europe's enemies and that's the reason why people think that would be easier to marginalize them than trying to look for effective forms of communication, bringing to a pacific coexistence among different cultures.

- “The cosmopolitan right should be limited to conditions of universal hospitality”. - I.Kant and his “third definitive article”.

- The Perpetual Peace and the foundations to build it. ●
